POETRY.

THE OLD PRINTER.

BY C. W. MCCULLER.

A Printer stood at his case one night,
In his office dark and drear,
And his weary sight was dim as the light
Of the mouldy lamp hung near;
The wintry winds were howling without,
And the snow falling thick and fast,
But the Printer, I trow, shook his locks of snow,
And laughed at the shrieking blast;
He watched the hands of the clock creep round,
Keeping time with its snail-like tick,
As he gathered the type, with a weary click,
In his old rust-eaten stick.

His hairs were as white as the falling snow
And silently, day-by-day,
He beheld them with grief, like the autumn leaf,
One by one, 'passing away,'
Time had cut with his plow furrows deep in his brow,
His cheeks was fevered and thin,
And his long Roman nose could almost repose
Its head on his gray bearded chin;
And with fingers long, as the hours stole on,
Keeping time with the clock's dull tick,
He gathered the type, with a weary click,
In the old rust-eaten stick.

For many long years, through joys and tears,
That old Printer's time battered face,
So ghostly and lean, night and morn had been seen,
Earnestly bent o'er his case.
In a few years more Death will lock up his form,
And put it to press in the mould,
And a stone o'er the spot where they lay him to rot,
Will tell us his name, and how old;
And his comrades will light that old lamp by his case,
And list to the clock's dull tick,
As they set up his death with a solemn click,
In his old rust-eaten stick.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MURDER OF A YOUNG LADY BY HER LOVER.

From the Hull Packet, August 6. 1858.

The quiet and secluded village of Darley, near Ripley, on the line of the Leeds Northern Railway, was on Monday the scene of unusual excitement in consequence of the discovery of the murder, by her lover, of a young person named Mary Jane Scalfe under circumstances of great barbarity and cruelty. The deceased who was about 22 years of age, was the daughter of Mr. Thomas Scalfe, a respectable farmer residing at Darley, and her murderer, James Atkinsen, is the son of Mr. Thomas Atkinson, flax spinner, a gentleman of some local position, and possessing considerable property. The parents of both reside within a short distance of each other, and the deceased and the murderer had been companions from childhood, the affection of children extending itself to that of love as they grew to manhood and womanhood, and each learning to look upon the other as a future partner through life. Unfortunately, the father of Atkinson and the mother of the deceased did not approve of the match, and about a year ago, after more, perhaps, than the usual crosses in love, the connection was broken off, the deceased accepting the addresses of a young man named Gill. The new love, however, did not prove permanent, and after a few months Miss Scalfe broke off the courtship with Gill and permitted the renewal of that with her old lover. The attentions of the latter were continued as before their interruption twelve months previously, but on Tuesday last, on the occasion of a gala at Bewerley Park, Atkinson saw Miss Scalfe in conversation with Gill, and the circumstance appears to have excited a strong feeling of jealousy, and a day or two after he met one of Miss Scalfes brothers, to whom he complained of her conduct. Whether his passion at that time suggested the fearful crime he afterwards perpetrated, is uncertain, but nothing occurred to excite any suspicion, and the two met each other as usual. On Sunday night they attended Hartwith chapel in company and on returning they were seen to go up Stump-lane, apparently on very good terms. This was about nine o'clock. Shortly afterwards Atkinson returned home, and went to bed.—The absence of the deceased created no uneasiness at home, as she had been in the habit of staying with her uncle, Mr. Downes, farmer. At day break the next morning Atkinson's brother, who slept in the same room, noticed blood upon the shirt of the former, and asked how it had come there, when he was horrified by being told by his brother that he had murdered Mary Scalfe the previous night.—The father was immediately called up, and the family roused. In the meantime, however, a man by the name of Potter Dick, whilst going along Stump-lane about five o'clock, found the deceased laid in the ditch, with her throat cut and quite dead. He gave an alarm, and Mr. George Horton, surgeon, and policeman Clifford, were soon on the spot, but their services were of no avail. The deceased, when found, was laid on her back, and she presented a most fearful spectacle. Her head was nearly severed from the body, her dress and face were saturated with clotted blood, her eyes protruded from the sockets with the most ghastly expression, indicating the violence of her dying convulsions, and the ground was covered with evidences of the fearful struggle which had taken place. The parasol of the deceased was broken to pieces, and her prayer-book was found by her side. The body was removed to the new Inn, and Atkinson being the last person seen in her company he was taken into custody, when he admitted the murder, stating that he had cut her throat with a knife, which he had secreted in Mr. Myers' wall, and declaring that it was all his father and her mother who had caused it, by opposing their marriage. The knife (an ordinary clasp-knife) was afterwards found as stated, the prisoner taking the police officer to the wall, and pointing out where he had placed it.

At the spot where the murdered body was found is a small embankment or cairn, consisting of the mud taken from the adjoining ditch, and it is supposed that Atkinson had thrown his victim upon it, and then cut her throat. As we have previously stated, the ground shows that a violent struggle ensued, the deceased, though only a weakly person, being with difficulty overpowered.

The prisoner was in the first instance removed to Pateley Bridge, and afterwards to Ripon, where he was taken before Chas. Oxley, Esq., charged with the wilful murder of Mary Jane Scalfe.

He is a good-looking young man, and appeared to be overpowered by his feelings. Previous to the charge being made he gave utterance to several matters connected with this melancholy affair, amongst which, 'I have been very happy ever since I left Pateley Bridge; I have committed a great crime, but I am quite content; I can go freely to the gallows, I can forgive the vilest of the vile; I am guilty; I left her about half past nine o'clock last night.'

The prisoner was remanded. On leaving the dock he said, 'Gentlemen, I hope to meet you all in heaven.'

On Wednesday Atkinson was taken before the magistrates at Knaresborough, when evidence of the above facts was given.

Being asked if he had anything to say, the prisoner, with great coolness then made the following

CONFESSION.

The reason I murdered her was because she would not have me. She told me her parents would not let her have me. She said she thought we could not be happy, as my father was also against it. She said 'It's all my mother, Jim, that's caused this disturbance.' She said three times, 'Lord help me,' and I hope the Lord will help her. I told her I could not be happy without her—I could not rest in this world. She said it was all false—that I cared nothing about her, I had behaved so badly to her. It was all because she was so queer to me, that made me do it. I told her I should murder her if she would not have me, because I could not rest. I told her I had not been happy for three weeks, or more than that. She told me she had not been happy; that she had been far from happy, since her parents were against me, and were always 'calling' me. Her mother was the worst, she said, and never let her alone, day in and day out. Her father never said anything to her about me—he never changed words with her on the subject. I was in her house on Sunday, at tea time. Her sister and her mother came in. Her sister and her were in the house, and I was in the kitchen.—She came out from her mother, and said, 'Come, come, go out before my mother comes in.' I did as she wanted me, and we both thought her mother did not see me. I went to a house on the contrary side of the road belonging to my father, but not where he lives. I perhaps stopped an hour there, waiting of her sister and her coming out to go to chapel. Her mother and her sister came out before her, and they stood talking about ten minutes or a quarter of an hour. Then she came out, and I went up to her. They went up the lane, and her mother went home. I followed them up the lane, and overtook them in a lane that takes into Stump-lane, where I murdered her. She didn't talk to me much, but her sister did. I went down to the bottom of Stump-lane with them. My sweetheart told us to go home to change my coat; to get my black coat on. I said that I had on would do me, and we parted at the bottom of the lane.—I thought myself I would go to Furness, her sister's sweetheart, who was coming up. There were some more people with Furness. I stopped a little bit and then walked forward. There were some more people sitting and standing on some wood below. I went and sat down and talked a bit. Furness and some others came up. I got up after a little bit and went against Furness, and asked him if he was going to Hartwith. He said it was a long road to go, but we set off down the lane together. We kept moving on slowly, until we got to the new line (railway,) and her brother then came up to us and we sat upon the wall and talked a little bit. I pulled out 1s and a 6d, and asked them if they could strike the six-pence from under the shilling and leave the shilling still on the finger.—We remained a bit and then set off to the chapel. The girls had gone before we set off. After that we came down to the chapel and saw all the people come out.—We followed after them. I went to my sweetheart, but she did not talk much to me ever afterwards. She said she thought we should have to part, as they called her so; she said they had been calling her after I left the house and her mother had nearly gone crazed. We walked on together and left her sister and Furness.—We walked on until we got to Stump-lane bottom, and when we got a little way up, she took her arm out of mine. I wanted her to put it in again, and she would not. I told her I could not be happy until I married her. She thought we could not be happy; she was sure we could not be happy. She told me I should behave badly to her. I said, if she would marry me, I would be content with her; I could not be content without her. She said we had better part a little bit. I told her many times I could not part from her, unless I did something with her. I told her I thought there was some one else she wanted, and I could not bide any one else to have her. She said we could both do without one another a little bit. Then I took hold of her as she was walking by the side of the road. She was all the while awkward with me, and would not go on quietly. I stopped her where she was, and told her I would murder her if she did not go on quietly with me. She said 'It's all false, you only want to make me believe so.' Then I took her by the throat and tried to choke her. She cried out when I took her by the throat, and I thought some one would hear. We then got up and walked on a little bit, and I pulled out my knife, and shewed it her. She cried out, 'Let's go home, Jim, let's go home, Jim.' Then I seized her, and cut her throat, and she cried out, 'It's all my mother, Jim, it's all my mother that's caused this disturbance.' She cried out 'The Lord help me,' three times, to the best of my recollection, and then she fainted away and I left her. I went over the wall, shut the knife, and put it in my waistcoat pocket. I went into the fields and wandered about, perhaps an hour or an hour and a half. I laid me down and thought I would go and tell her parents, but I could not go. I then thought I would go to her again, and I went back, but when I got a little way up the lane my heart failed me, and I couldn't go to her. Then I got over the other wall into the field on the other side. I took the knife out of my pocket again and opened it, and put it in a wall top, after which I took across the fields home to a little dam of my father's, to wash the blood off my hands and face. I then crossed another field home. When I got home my father and them were up. I did not go into the house. I went into the shed where the carts were, and sat me down until I thought they had all gone to bed. Then I went into the house. I could not eat any supper and went to bed. I could not rest all the night. I got up in the morning and told my brother, as he told you. I have nothing more to say.

The prisoner was then fully committed for trial at York on the charge of wilful murder.

SCIENCE IN A DISSECTING ROOM.

A correspondent informs us that a case similar to that of Magee is narrated in the British Mercury, June 12, 1790, with the remark of the editor: 'Casuists may amuse themselves with settling whether the following action be ranged under the title of justice or humanity.' The case is this:

A young gentleman who had studied at a celebrated university, and having a strong predilection for anatomy, took great pleasure in attending on dissections. One evening he, with many others, was anxiously attending on the commencement of that operation on the body of a notorious malefactor, who lay stretched out on the table before them; the surgeon who had been placing it in a proper situation, turned to the class, and addressed them thus: 'I am pretty certain, gentlemen,' from the warmth of the subject, and the flexibility of the limbs, that by a proper degree of attention and care the vital heat would return, and life in consequence take place.—But, then, when it is considered what a rascal we should again have among us, that he was executed for having murdered a girl who was with child by him, and that were he restored to life he would probably murder somebody else, when these things are coolly considered, I own it is my opinion that we had better proceed with the dissection.' With these words, he plunged the knife into the breast of the carcass, and precluded at once all dread of future assassination or hopes of repentance.

A SPLENDID ILLUMINATION.

The illumination of East Rock, New Haven, on Tuesday, was a splendid affair viewed from the city. Wires were strung along the brow of the mountain, supported by stakes and trees, extending from the east end around to the western side.—Large balls of India rubber scraps, wired together and dipped in turpentine, were hung upon this wire and the whole simultaneously fired, exhibiting for some twenty minutes a flame that from New Haven had the appearance of a line of fire in the heavens. Hedges were formed upon which tar was poured and sixty tar barrels were distributed in every accessible nook in the sides of the mountain. The whole when fired amid ascending rockets, made a grand appearance. Upon East Peak a huge bonfire was kindled, and burning and wood illumined the summit, lighting the adjacent country.

READ AN HOUR A DAY.—There was once a lad who, at fourteen, was apprenticed to a soap-boiler. One of his resolutions was to read one hour a day, or at least at that rate, and he had an old silver watch, left him by his uncle, which he timed his reading by. He staid seven years with his master, and his master said when he was twenty-one that he knew as much as the young squire did. Now let us see how much time he had to read in, in seven years, at the rate of an hour a day. It would be twenty-five hundred and fifty-five hours, which, at the rate of eight reading hours a day, would be three hundred and nineteen days; equal to forty-five weeks, equal to eleven months; nearly a years reading. That time spent in treasuring up useful knowledge, would pile up a very large store. I am sure it is worth trying for. Try what you can do. Begin now.

'Can't he? Why don't he kick you off, then?'

Exit gentleman, in a hurry—ears polite not relishing vulgar conversation.

A SHORT PATENT SERMON.

BY DOW, JR.

At the request of brother S. M. Kerr, (Phoenix Rancho, near Bangor,) I will meddle with the following:

'Whar de hen scratch, dar she spec' to find de bug.'

MY HEARERS: I am informed that a dark complexioned preacher, in Columbus, Ohio, once took the above for his text, and proved from it that our First Parents fell out of an apple-tree into a mud-hole, which caused their first born to be as black as your hat. I am afraid that my colored co-laborer has made much more out of it than I can, for, turn it over, set it upon end, lay it down an sprawl it open—after all, this old rooster don't find a great deal to pick at.

In the first place, my brethren, I will propound a pious connumdrum. Why are men like watches? Because we must look inside of them for their good qualities, and judge of them by their 'works'!

Well my brethren, the work of men and women in general consists, for the most part, in scratching, and the prospect of a bug is the incentive. You notice, brethren, that whenever a hen makes a scratch, she always give a pick; but whether she gets a bug at every dip, is very uncertain. I imagine not. Nevertheless, where she scratches there she expects to find a bug.

Expecting is one thing, you know, my friends, and finding another. You may turn over many a stone in this precarious world, and find no bug, after all. Phrenologically speaking, the human head is one vast bump of expectation, and nothing else.

There are various sorts of bugs, brethren, in this buggy sphere. There are big bugs, little bugs, tumble bugs, straddle-bugs, humbugs and bug-bears. But you needn't scratch about much to find any of these, for they are everywhere thicker than skippers in a seven year old cheese.

To find the bug you so earnestly desire, requires diligent scratching; and if in so doing you don't happen to catch it, you can comfort yourself with the reflection that you put in the licks for it, and it ought to have been yours. If a young man takes a girl about to see the shows, feeds her with tibits, and buys her pretty calicoes, his title to a kiss is clear and indisputable—for 'where the hen scratches there she expects to find a bug.'

The bug that you are all after, my brethren, is the gold-bug; but, alack-a-day, how many of you scratch in vain; yet it is found in manure heaps, as well as in auriferous places. The farmer turns it up with his plow, and the gardner with his spade; and yet thousands keep scratching here and there without finding 'ary bug.

A few years ago hundreds of you fell to scratching at Kern river, expecting to find a mighty big bug. Well, you scratched, and scratched, and scratched; and what did you turn up at last?—a monstrous humbug? Got frightened and scrambled for home, a vast sight more buggy than you went—for 'where the hen scratches, there she expects to find a bug.

And now you all want to go to the Frazel country; but there are so many different ways to get there, you are in a quandary which to choose. It is like getting to Heaven. The Catholics insist upon going straight through Purgatory—the Baptist go a roundabout way, but keep where there is plenty of water, as they belong to the class known as amphiboe—the Presbyterians think their road the safest although rather hot—the Universalists declare theirs to be the most pleasant—while the Methodists shout 'Halleluyah,' and scare up rabits, as they journey upon the good old Jordan route. But when you are once there (at the diggings I mean—for I am not sure that you will ever reach the other place) one stands thus as good a chance as another—and I don't know but a little better. You all have about an equal amount of hope, if not pluck, and each will probably pitch in and dig with all the energy of a terrier at a gopher-hole—for 'where the hen scratches, there she expects to find a bug.'

Let me make another application of text, my brethren. Beware of an oily-tongued sycophantic friend—who is ever too ready to do you a small favor—who professes a willingness to serve you at all times—who praises you as the fox did the crow; for, while he is thus 'quizzling' himself into your good graces, he has a sly eye upon your purse—yourself forgetting for the moment, that 'where the hen scratches, there she expects to find a bug.'

My friends—how uneasy is the immortal mind in its pent-up prison of clay! How it seems to exult in its freedom while winging its way to yon azure fields of light and glory, or wandering amid the green old bowers of the past, where none but itself is permitted to roam! What, then, must be its delight when forever released from its thraldom of flesh, and no longer dependent upon bread, beef, and potatoes! The day will come, when liberty, such as mortals have never yet known, will be blissfully realized in an eternal sphere, where——w h e r e——'where the hen scratches, there she expects to find a bug.' So mote it be!—Golden Era.

John Bass, who was hanged in Arkansas recently, for murdering and robbing a tax collector, while on the gallows confessed that after leaving Alabama, he murdered three men for their money. Bass murdered a negro in Tuscaloosa county, Alabama, three years since, but escaped punishment by changing his abode to Pickings, where he whipped another to death, and to escape punishment fled to Arkansas, where he met the fate he so justly merited.

A CONJUGAL CONSOLATION.—A younger brother had espoused and old an ill tempered wife but extremely rich. He used to say. 'Whenever I find my wife cross, and my own temper giving way, I retire to my library, and console myself by reading her marriage settlement.'

TRUE HEROISM.—A correspondent of the New Haven Journal, writing from Guilford, Ct., gives the following instance of true courage which occurred at that place:

A short time since, two men engaged in excavating a ledge of rocks for the purpose of finding a spring of water, had reached a depth of some fifteen or twenty feet. At this point they had prepared a 'side blast,' when one of the men ascended, while the other remained below to ignite the fuse. In so doing, some powder "lying around loose," was fired, and the man lost his presence of mind, through fear, and was unable to find the ladder by which he was to ascend, exclaiming at the same time, 'I am a dead man!' His fellow workman seeing his situation, descended to his rescue, and, seizing him by his clothing, bore him to the surface, reaching it only in time to avoid inevitable death—the explosion following immediately, rending the ladder to atoms, and tearing out immense pieces of granite. The name of this fearless hero is James McDermott, an humble individual, but who has the consciousness of having saved the life of a fellow man, even at the imminent peril of losing his own.

PECUNIARY ACCOMMODATIONS.

One always begins by being security to a friend. The discredit of the thing is familiarized to one's mind by the false show of generous confidence in another. Then what you have done for a friend, a friend should do for you—a hundred or two would be useful now—you are sure to pay it in three months. You pledge your honor that in three months you will release your friend. The three months expire.—To release the one friend you catch hold of another—the bill is renewed, premium and interest thrown into the next pay-day—soon the account multiplies, and with it the honor dwindles—your name circulates from hand to hand on the back of doubtful paper—your name which, in all money transactions, should grow higher and higher each year you live, falling down every month like the shares in a swindling speculation. You begin by what you call trusting a friend, that is, aiding him to self-destruction—buying him arsenic to clear his complexion—you end by dragging all near you into your own abyss, as a drowning man would clutch at his own brother.

SPEAKING WELL OF OTHERS.—If the disposition to speak well of others was universally prevalent, the world would become a comparative paradise. The opposition is the Pandorabox, which, when opened, fills every neighborhood with pain and sorrow. How many enmities and heart burnings flow from this source! How much happiness is interrupted and destroyed! Envy, jealousy and the malignant spirit of evil, when they find vent by the lips, go forth on their mission like foul fiends, to blast the reputation and peace of others. Every one has imperfections, and in the conduct of the best there will be occasional faults which might seem to justify animadversion. It is a good rule, however, when there is occasion for fault finding, to do it privately to the erring one. This may prove salutary. It is a proof of interest in the individual, which will generally be taken kindly, if the manner of doing be not offensive The common and unchristian rule, on the contrary, is, to proclaim the failings of others to all but themselves. This is unchristian, and shows a despicable heart.

The Chicago papers give the particulars of a dreadful crime perpetrated in that city on Saturday. A Bohemian named Yohan Nehastle, on the day preceeding, had lost his youngest child by starvation. He had been but one month in America, could not speak a word of English, was poor and unable to get any work at his trade. After the death of one of his children by starvation, he seemed to have become despondent, and to have determined to kill his other child, which he accomplished by splitting her head open with an axe. His extreme poverty and destitution doubtless drove the wretched father to the perpetration of this most dreadful crime. Think of it! Starved in the greatest grain market in the world!

ALWAYS BUSY.—The more a man accomplishes the more he may. An active tool never grows rusty. You always find those men the most forward to do good or to improve the times and manners, always busy. Who start our railroads, our steamboats, our machine shops, our factories? Men of industry and enterprise. As long as they live they keep at work, doing something to benefit themselves and others. We go for activity—in body, in mind, in everything. Keep things in motion. We should rather that death should find us scaling a mountain than sinking in the mire—breasting a whirlwind than sneaking from a cloud.—Newburyport Herald.

God has written on the flowers that sweeten the air, upon the breeze that rocks the flowers upon the stem—upon the rain drops that refresh the spring of moss that lifts its head in the desert—upon its deep chambers—upon every penciled sheet that sleeps in the cavern of the deep, no less than upon the mighty sun that warms and cheers millions of creatures which live in its light—upon all his works he has written—'No one liveth for himself.'

REVOLTING ANECDOTE.—A wretch of a husband, coming home at one in the morning found his angel wife sitting up reading a novel. With a coarseness almost amounting to cruelty he took the book from her hand, and placed before her a pair of socks which happened to have holes in them, disgustingly observing if you will fatigue yourself, my love, with any work at such an hour, I would suggest it is never too late to mend.—Punch.

MEDLEY FROM THE POETS.

The moon was shining silver bright,
All bloodless lay th' untrodden snow,
When Freedom, from her mountain height,
Exclaimed, 'Now don't be foolish Jo.'

An hour passed on, the Turk awoke,
A bumble-bee went thundering by,
To hover in the sulphur smoke,
And spread its sail upon the sky.

His echoing axe the settler swung,
He was a lad of high renown;
And deep the pearly waves among,
Giles Scroggins courted Molly Brown.

Loud roars the wild inconstant blast,
And cloudless sets the sun at even,
When twilight dews are falling fast,
And rolls the thunder drums of heaven.

Oh! ever thus, from childhood's hour,
By torch and trumpet fast arrayed;
Beneath yon ivy-mantled tower,
The bull-frog croaks his serenade.

My love is like the red, red rose,
He brought a ring with posey true;
Sir Barney Bodkin broke his nose,
And, Saxon, I am Rhoderick Dhu?

WANTS.—If they give you no special inconvenience, let them alone. But if it is of essential importance to get rid of them, purchase half an ounce of muriatic acid, put it in a broad-bottomed vial, so that it will not easily turn over; take a stick as large as the end of a knitting-needle, dip it into the acid, and touch the top of the wart with whatever of the acid adheres to the stick; then, with the end of the stick, rub the acid into the top of the wart, without allowing the acid to touch the well skin. Do this night and morning, and a safe, painless, and effectual cure is the result.—Hall's Journal.

A NOTABLE DOWAGER.—The countess dowager of Hardwicke, who recently died in England at the age of 95, was the daughter of the fifth earl of Balcarres, who at the age of 60 married her mother. Lady Hardwicke was therefore able to say her father was engaged in the rebellion of 1715 (143 years ago;) that her grandmother was born in the same year that Charles 1st was beheaded (1649;) and that Charles II gave away the bride at her grandfather's first marriage.

GRAMMAR ILLUSTRATED.—The following innovation on Lindley Murray's grammatical rules is going the round of the papers:

Said Anna's preceptor, 'A kiss is a noun,
But tell me if proper or common,' he cried;
With cheeks of vermillion and eyelids cast down,
"Tis both common and proper,' the pupil replied.

RELIGION AT HOME.—'Let them learn first,' says Paul, 'to show religion at home.' Religion begins in the family. One of the most holiest sanctuaries on earth is home. The family altar is more venerable than any altar in the cathedral. The education of the soul for eternity begins by the fireside. The principle of love, which is carried through the universe, is first unfolded in the family.

Jones came home 'glorious,' and took it into his insane head to try a cold soup, the remains of his dinner, before he went to bed. His wife heard him fumbling about for a while, in vain endeavoring to find it. At last he said, 'Wife, is that ere soup tied up in anything, or is it lying around loose?'

So you have had new bottoms to your parlor-chairs, I hear, Jane; how much did they cost?'

'Indeed I don't know.'

'Well, that's strange; for you must have paid for them or they would not have sent them reseated.'

A lady wrote upon a window some verse intimating her design of never marrying. A gentleman wrote the following lines underneath:

The lady whose, these words betoken,
Wrote them on glass, to show it may be broken.

It is with the tree of geneology as with the oak of the forest, we may boast of the timbers it has given to a state vessel, but say nought of the three-legged stools, the broomsticks, and tobacco-stoppers made from the ends and chips.

Wanted—a thin man, who has been used to the business of collecting, to crawl through keyholes, and find debtors who are never at home. Salary—nothing the first year, to be doubled each year afterwards.

MARRIAGE.—Hon. Fayette McMullen, Governor of Washington Territory, who recently obtained a divorce from his wife residing in Virginia, was married in Olympia, on the 12th ult., to Miss Mary Wood, of Thurston county, W. T.

Among the epitaphs to be found in the burying ground in Ringe, N. H., is the following:

This bed is cold; but, oh! I love it,
For colder were my friends above it.

There are three things a man never gets tired of looking at—the sky, the sea, and woman's face. And why? Because they are never for two days together alike.

Gentlemen who smoke, and ladies who dance till morning, should remember that the bird picks up the early worm.

ELIZABETH CITY:

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 14, 1858.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.—Croatan fishery will be sold at auction in the town of Edenton on the 12th of October. See advertisement of J. J. Moore & Co., Auctioneers, Norfolk, offering for sale a farm in Princess Anne county, Va.

THE NORTH CAROLINA PLANTER, for September, has been received. The farmers of the State should sustain this monthly. A. M. Gorman, Raleigh, N. C.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, for October, is upon our table. With a cotemporary, we say that "it is the best of all lady's books." Terms, $3 per annum. We will furnish the "Book" and the "Pioneer" together, one year for $4, in advance. L. A. Godey, Publisher, 323 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

NEWBERN GAZETTE.—We have received this paper, published in Newbern, Craven, by T. R. Murray, Editor and Proprietor. The "Gazette" is the largest journal in the State; is neutral in politics, and is devoted to "Local and Commercial News, the promotion of Southern Literature, Science, Art, and General Information," and in typographical appearance will compare with any paper in or out of the State.—Price $2.00 a year, in advance.

CORRECTIONS.

In the article in last week's issue headed "Kansas Again," the word wild, in the 28th line of the second paragraph, should have been civil—civil commotion, instead of wild commotion, and in the 30th line of the same paragraph read crimsoned the fair plains of Kansas, for envenomed the fair plains of Kansas. These errors escaped the proof reader before going to press.

ACQUITTAL OF FACE.

Our readers will remember our having published an account of an "outrage in Portsmouth" some time ago—the throwing of a negro in the river by Edward Face.—The case has lately been tried by the 'Circuit Court at Portsmouth, and, as will be seen by the following paragraph from the Norfolk Argus, the accused was acquitted:

"D. J. Godwin, Esq., Commonwealth's Attorney, closed his argument yesterday at half past 11 o'clock, when the case of Edward Face charged with murder, was given to the jury, who retired, and after being absent about 45 minutes, returned into Court and rendered a verdict of "not guilty.""

CARRIAGES, HARNESS, &c.

We have neglected to notice the Repository for the sale of Carriages and other vehicles, which has been open here for several months, under the control of Mr. J. C. Whitehurst. We do so now, however, with pleasure. In our walks around Town, we "dropped in" at the above establishment, and were shown by Mr. W. some fine Carriages—vehicles that will compare favorably with any we have ever seen.—Also, rockaways, sulkies, harness, whips and fly-nets—in fact, everything in this line of business can be seen by calling on Mr. Whitehurst; and if he has not the desired article on hand, he will procure it for you at the shortest notice. Give him a call.

SCHOOLS.

ELIZABETH CITY SEMINARY.

The fall session of this school will open on Monday next, 20th inst., under the supervision of Rev. Dr. Weatherly—John B. Lyon, Esq., Principal of the Male Department, and Miss Amelia E. Jordan, Principal of the Female Department.

Mr. Lyon is well known to our citizens of both Town and County, as a gentleman of high attainments, possessing a liberal education—combining with the English studies those of the Higher Branches, Latin, Greek, &c. We feel assured that he will be found a tutor of the right stripe, and will give general satisfaction to all who may entrust the care of their sons to him.

The principal of the Female Department, Miss Jordan, is equally as competent for the position she has been called upon to fill as her co worker in the Male Department; and we congratulate the Trustees upon their fortunate selection. Miss J. is a graduate of Chowan Female College, and brings the highest testimonials as to her rare attainments. We hope that the school will be liberally patronized.

We would call attention to the advertisement of Misses Ellen B. and M. Anna B. Heath, who propose to open a school for young ladies in the Town of Edenton on the 1st Monday in Oct. The young ladies are graduates of St. Joseph's, Maryland, and are competent for the business in which they are soon to engage.

HERTFORD MALE AND FEMALE ACADEMY will open on the first Monday in October—D. Barclift, Principal of Male Department, assisted by W. H. Weatherly, A. B.; Mr. Barclift, Principal, and Miss Virginia Wood and Miss Emma S. Gordon, assistants in Female Department. See advertisement.

The Tenth Annual Session of Riddicksville Seminary will commence on the last Monday in this month. M. Kellogg, Jr., Principal and Proprietor, E. E. Merriam, A. B. Advertisement in to-day's paper.

☞It is said that Hon. John H. Wheeler, of North Carolina, the Minister to Nicaragua, who recognized the Walker Government, will be tendered the Mission to

HON. JOHN LETCHER.

It is generally known that there is an active and spirited discussion going on at present in Virginia in relation to the Gubernatorial candidate to succeed Gov. Wise. It is but natural that, being contiguous to Virginia, we should feel a deep interest in the question, and entertain a preference for some one of the many distinguished gentlemen whose claims are being urged for the honor of the nomination. In the last Gubernatorial canvass there was scarce less feeling in this State, and not a whit the less desire, for the success of Gov. Wise, than was to be found in Virginia, and the news of his election was received with the most intense satisfaction. It is true that, the peculiarity of that contest, it being the first fair fight between Democracy and Know-Nothingism in a Southern State, gave to it an additional interest. It is also true that the struggle now going on there is between Democrats as to who shall be selected for the next Governor. There is quite a difference, but the people of North Carolina are the subjects of considerable anxiety upon this question also. This is the result of an unbounded admiration for the gentleman whose name forms the caption for this article. There is scarce a man—a reading man, in this State, who is not familiar with the name of John Letcher; there is scarce one who does not entertain a feeling of profound respect and sincere regard for his superior abilities and distinguished services. His public course has been marked by a consistency, a straightforwardness, an attention to his Congressional duties, and a strict and undeviating watchfulness over the interests of the country. There is nothing of the demagogue about Mr. Letcher. There is nothing of the time-serving, pot-house politician in any thing he does or says. He is an open, honest, faithful, indefatigable statesman, devoted to the interests confided to his charge; firm and conscientious in the opinions which he entertains, expressing and defending them with boldness, fearlessless, and independence; true to the South and true to Democracy. With such a man, the sympathies of North Carolina Democrats will ever be, and they cannot be blamed for declaring a wish that he may be the standard-bearer of his party in the coming campaign. We cannot think that his connection with the Ruffner affair will injure him one vote. That has been fully and completely cleared up, and Mr. Letcher stands now, as he stood before, an honest, faithful, sound, able, and conscientious Democrat.

ANOTHER TRIAL.

"Patience and perseverance," it is said, "surmouts all obstacles." If this be true, we shall at last have an opposition to the Democracy composed of all the isms, factions, and fag ends of factions so abundant at present in the country. There has been, for some time, an effort making by the various aspirants for political preferment leading the different combinations antagonistic to the Democratic party to unite their respective squads into one grand armie so as to offer a more effective resistance to the onward march of Democratic principles. From a want of confidence, one in the other, a too great contrariety of opinion, a fear on the part of the wily negotiators of being overreached in the transaction, or some other cause, the attempt, thus far has been unsuccessful. If discouraged by these repeated failures, the different parties have not despaired of eventually bringing about the desired union, as we learn by recent advices that a meeting of the leading members of the Black Republican, "American," Whig (?), and anti-Administration Democrats, was recently held in New York for the purpose of joining hands for the next battle. The result of the meeting we have not learned. If it has not again proved an abortion, our readers shall know the fact as soon as we get at it ourself. It would be amusing to see all these Kilkenny cats peacefully trotting along together. The sight would be all sufficient to disturb the gravity of the philosopher whose sober phiz has never been wrinkled by a smile. Let us have the union by all means: it will serve to illustrate the pliancy of Democratic opposition.

SHERIFF OF PASQUOTANK.

On Tuesday last, before the Justices of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, Wm. E. Mann, Esq., was sworn in as Sheriff of Pasquotank County for the term of two years. Feeling an interest in everything that looks like good luck for the craft, we can but congratulate Mr. Mann upon this, we hope, stroke of fortune.—Mr. M. being a printer, of course he will make a good officer; and when he retires from office, we hope he will have, as our late Sheriff has in his retirement, that consolation that one enjoys when he knows that he has done his duty and that his fellow-citizens approve his acts.

THE STATIST.—Quent. Busbee, Esq., the editor of the proposed work, has issued some specimen leaves, showing the character of his Magazine, in which he gives the public debt of North Carolina, its amount and when falling due; also, the revenue and its resources.

The work promises to be a useful one. The first number will be published by the third Monday in November, if sufficient subscriptions are obtained to justify it.—Terms $3 per annum. Address Quent. Busbee, Esq., Raleigh, N. C.

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.—We return our thanks to the Hon. David S. Reid for copies of "Message and Documents, 1857–'8—parts 1, 1, 3," and for a copy of the "Report on the Finances, 1856–'7."

Senator Reid remembers his friends; and, with the Live Giraffe, we hope that the next Legislature will again honor the man whose name in North Carolina is familiar as "household words," by re-electing him to the distinguished position he now so worthily fills.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.—There were eighty-nine deaths here from yellow fever on Saturday.

FREE NEGROES.

The attention of the people of the State is being directed to the evils arising from the quantity of free negroes in our midst, and to the adoption of the best means of getting clear, or at least a mitigation, of the intolerable nuisance. There is no question about the injurious influence exerted by this class of our population upon the morals of the slave, to say nothing of other evils much to be complained of. As a general thing, the free negro is an indolent, lazy, drunken, thievish individual, working only when he cannot steal, or induce the slave to steal for him. They must live, and they live upon the labor of others. The slave is induced to rob his master's barn, and the free negro is the recipient of the stolen goods, paying for them in whiskey to the amount of about one-hundredth of their value. This the poor slave imbibes until he becomes pretty well intoxicated, when he is ready for a quarrel, fight, or any species of rascality that may present itself. It does not even stop here, for too frequently are brutal and revolting murders the consequence of his indulgence. The miserable free negro escapes, and the slave—the victim of his roguery, has to pay the penalty. If the truth could be ascertained, four-fifths of the crimes committed by the slave may be traced directly or indirectly to the agency of his free brother. Free negroism is a growing evil, and deserves, as we have no doubt it will receive, the attention of the next Legislature. It is absolutely necessary that some plan should be devised to rid the State of this intolerable evil, and any feasible plan will be well received by our people.

A SHERIFF RUNNING AWAY WITH AN HEIRESS—A QUARTER OF A MILLION PRIZE IN CRINOLINE CONNUBIALLY GAINED.

Evening before last two young and very good looking persons arrived at the Spencer House, by the nine o'clock Kentucky Central Railroad train, in quite an amatory and agitated state, and immediately informed Mr. Wm. W. Johnson, the good looking and obliging clerk of the hotel, that they wished to be matrimonially united as soon as possible, as "every minute was worth a hundred dollars' to them.

Johnson, who takes an interest in such matters, immediately set off to find the Clerk of the Probate Court to obtain a license; but notwithstanding he ran and rode over a large portion of the city, the much-sought clerk could not be discovered, and with this dismal intelligence he returned home. The youthful twain were much dejected when they heard of his ill success, and the masculine candidate for wedlock, thinking a lover even more persevering than ordinary mortals, himself made a search voyage, but came back with no better result.

It was then about one o'clock in the morning, and folly to make further attempt until the dawn of day. So the young pair set up all night in a feverish and most anxious state lest the 'old folks' should arrive, and as soon as Aurora streaked the East with her gray robes, they were on the alert. Messages were sent by the half dozen, and soon the license and Rev. Mr. Nicholson, of St. John's Church, made their appearance, and the two were indissolubly bound in hymenial bonds.

The bridegroom is Mr. E. D. Lightfoot of Falmouth, Ky.—Sheriff of Pendleton county, we are informed—and the bride Miss Sarah M. Shawan, of the same vicinity, a beautiful and very wealthy heiress, owning, in her own right, about a quarter of a million of property.

The Sheriff had long been a suitor for the lovely Sarah's hand, and still longer the possessor of her heart. He had asked the consent of her parents—mamma was willing—who ever saw a woman that was not in favor of marriage? though papa was not. But one mode of conduct remained, and the lovers adopted that, as we have seen.

They were very happy when they were united; may they always continue so.

The new made pair returned in the afternoon to Kentucky, convinced that the perverse father would pardon them, when he could not, by any possibility, undo the knot that had been tied, and of course he will, for how can he help it, when Sarah looks up with her heavenly eyes and says: "Forgive us, father, we are both your children now?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE BANK OF CHARLOTTE.

The Raleigh Register corrects the report injurious to the above institution, which it says has been set on foot by certain parties who desired to buy its notes at a heavy discount.. The Register says: 'It affords us pleasure to checkmate this dishonest movement by stating, as we do, on the highest and most undoubted authority, that in every particular this Bank is as well managed, and as able, and willing to meet all its obligations as any Bank in the State, or the United States, and we therefore caution the holders of its notes against parting with them at a discount. The notes of the Bank of Charlotte are received currently at the Bank of the State, and Branch Bank of Cape Fear in this City.' The notes also pass readily in Wilmington, N. C.

The Charlotte Democrat denies emphatically the truth of the report in regard to this Bank, which originated through a correspondent of the Petersburg Express, and justly cautions the press against too hastily spreading reports without the best evidence of their correctness. The Democrat says that "although this Bank followed the leading institutions of the State in suspending last autumn, it has never refused coin for its notes in the hands of travelers of our own citizens who desired it. Besides, in order to equalize currency as much as possible after suspension, it received and paid out at par value, the notes of all good Banks from Maryland to Louisiana." The stock of this Bank sells at $110 to $112.

THE BAPTISTS.—The Baptist Almanac for 1859 has just been issued by the American Baptist Publication Society.—We gather from it the following summary of the Baptists in the United States:

Associations 505; churches 11,000; ordained ministers 7,144; licentiates 1,025; baptized in 1857 63,566; total members 623,193. Besides these there are the Anti-Mission Baptists 58,000; and the Free-will Baptists 50,310; and of Disciples and other denominations that practice immersion, about 400,000. The increase in the last ten years has been 144 associations, 3,395 churches, 2,191 ordained ministers, and 225,488 members.

INTERESTING AFFAIR.—Yesterday Capt. Goddard received two telegraph despatches from Fredericksburg, Va., requesting him to cause the arrest and return of a young lady and gentleman who had eloped from their homes for a matrimonial object. The despatches were from their disconsolate parients; stated they were both under age, and led Capt. Goddard to infer that their united ages were not above thirty years. Lieut. McHenry and officer Zimmerman proceeded to the boat, and were somewhat astonished to find instead of the supposed younglings, a large brawny man, apparently of twenty-four or twenty-six years, and a hearty, well developed lady of nineteen or twenty years.

The officers, however, took the gentleman and his female friend before Justice Donn, who, it is whispered, has a fellow-feeling in matters of this sort. The justice could not find any law to prevent the alliance, and simply held the parties to bail to return home to-day, hinting that they would meet with no obstruction to their desires from him.

Later in the day, the terms of the District code being complied with, the wedding was consummated near the steamboat docks in presence of Lieut. McHenry and several officers, and the happy "two in one" departed this morning to conciliate their infuriated parients.—States.

We have to record another homicide in Virginia. Mr. H. M. Bowyer, a wealthy and intelligent farmer of Botetourt County, on Thursday, the 26th ult., shot Mr. James McDowell, President of the Farmers Bank of Fincastle. He entered the Bank and fired at him several times, two balls taking effect in his chest and abdomen, from the effects of which he died next day. Both have been prominent men in the county. McDowell was formerly Consul at Belfast, under President Polk; he was past the middle age, and a widower with a family of children. At the Examining Court it was proved that McDowell had seduced a weak-minded daughter of Bowyer, and induced her to go to Baltimore, where she was discovered in a house of suspicious character. Mr. Bowyer brought his child home, placed her in the Insane Asylum at Staunton, and then proceeded to avenge the wrong in the manner stated. He has been committed for trial before the Circuit Court.

IMPORTS OF DRY GOODS.

The imports of foreign dry goods at this port for the five weeks ending Sept. 2nd are $11,574,540. The total as made up for the corresponding month of last year, comprised the receips of but four weeks, so that the imports have averaged about the same throughout each month.

If the imports continue at this rate throughout the season the government will not need another loan. Most of our importers have been looking for a sudden cessation in receipts, but as yet there are no indications of such a change. Our market, however, will not bear as great weights as formerly, and the accumulated surplus abroad is not as large as in days past, so that some decline in the imports may resonably be expected.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

DEATH OF AN OLD LADY.—The Opelousas, La., Courier of the 21st inst., records the following case of death from old age:

Mrs. Pierre Felisse, Canadian by birth, but residing in our parish a very long time has just died in Prairie Chattaigner, at the, advanced age of 112 years. Although it is not in the church record that her age has been ascertained, it is nevertheless equally certain by the chain of circumstances derived from the oldest inhabitants that she could not be less than 111 years old at the time of her death. She has been married three times, and all three times she has married Canadians like herself; the two first having literally died of old age whilst the surviving one is far advanced in years.

DR. J. C. AYER, the world renowned Chemist of New England, is now stopping at the Burnet house in this city. He has been making a tour of the Western States, with his scientific associates, to investigate their remedial productions, or such as he can make remedial. We notice he has been received with marked distinction by our leading citizens of the West and are rejoiced to find they have shown a proper estimate of the man who has perhaps done more for the relief of human ills than any other American.—Daily Journal, Cincinnati, O.

SEWING MACHINES.—We are sorry to see our Southern exchanges puffing these Machines. As for our part, we look upon them as far worse than any infernal machine that ever was invented; for more virtuous females have been ruined by being thrown out of employment since the invention of this infernal Sewing Machine, than ever were before. We would like to see the inventor of the first one on Blackwell's Island in the State of New York, getting out stone, the balance of his life.—Eliz. City Sentinel.

LIFE AT THE SPRINGS.—A writer from the White Sulphur, Va., says:

"Last night a young man here was borne to another world on the wings of spirits—that is, died of mania-a-potu.—Another impetuous youth is said to have dosed himself with too much morphine, through the effects of too much love or folly. They say, too, he is dead. There are many more fast boys about—some devoted to the sex—some to horses—some to "smiling," and some to "the tiger."

NORTH BRITISH REVIEW.—The publishers, Messrs. Leonard Scott & Co., New York, have sent us the August number of this useful standard work. It contains many valuable and interesting articles, all of which will repay a perusal. The same may be said of the August number of BLACKWOOD, which is upon our table.

We failed to notice at the proper time the receipt of the LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW, and BLACKWOOD, for July. Absence must be our excuse for not doing so.

☞Ex-President Pierce, with Mrs. Pierce, was sojourning at Villeneuve, Switzerland, on the 10th of August, after having visited Lisbon, Cadiz, Seville, Gibraltar, Marseilles, Lyons, and Geneva.—Mrs. Pierce's health had greatly improved. They are to visit Italy during September.

☞Rev. Eleazer Williams, 'the Dauphin' of Putnam's Magazine, is dead. The question is now settled. We have not a Dauphin among us.

TELEGRAPHIC JOKES.

The Nashville Daily Gazette is responsible for the following:

The Queen's Dispatch.—Windsor Palace. Aug. 18, 1858.—ODD BUCK—Dear sir: I take my pen in hand to inform you of my health, which at present is very good, and permit me to hope that these few lines will find you enjoying the same blessing.

Although "Old Pam" thinks you you treated me shabbily, in making such a fuss about the right of search, I am disposed to overlook and be on visiting terms with you. But for some little matters, which you do not understand, but which keep me confined a great deal, I should visit you in person—but, for the present this must suffice.

Albert sends his respects and desires me to ask you about the tobacco crop in America. Please answer with dispatch.

VICTORIA REX.

P. S.—The children are all well.

The President's Reply.—White house, Aug. 18, 1858.—Dear Little Vic.—Your line of this date is before me. I am delighted to hear of your good health and hope it may be continued. Saving an attack of office seekers. I am tolerably well, I thank you.

Your desire to peep into my vessels I attribute to woman's curiosity, and have not thought of the matter since. Your amiable desire for peace does credit to your sex, and finds a responsive chord in my own bosom. I hope that you and I may never quarel. I have all my life endeavored to avoid collision with women. By acting entirely on the defensive, I have thus far, thanks to a beneficient Providence, been successful. I can stand anything but being searched. That can't be did.

My kind regards and sympathies to Col. Coburg, and tell him that the tobacco crop is just middling.

Yours, &c., JAMES BUCHANAN.

And a correspondent of the New York Times says that there is a rumor that there was a postscript in the communication of Victoria to our President, which was omitted in the publication. It is as follows:

"You will oblige me by expressing yourself cautiously in replying to my telegram, as I wish to avoid giving Albert any jealous or unpleasant feelings, which would you know, very naturally be created by my sparking with a bachelor."

President's Reply.—"The Western world readily adapts itself to European examples, and particularly to such as are furnished by persons of exalted birth and station. I hope yours will be imitated by others of your sex, although your communication, owing perhaps to its novelty, was the most shocking I ever received."

AN UNFORTUNATE DAY.—Thursday last was an unfortunate day for Philadelphia. A fire near Fairmount destroyed property to the amount of $50,000, throwing a number of industrious workmen out of employment. A young man named James Freas was murdered in West Philadelphia by a dissolute fellow by the name of Charles Stiles. Louis Orr, a lad, was crushed to death at Broad and Girard avenue by the falling of a marble slab. A son of Samuel Smith, only four years old, was scalded to death by falling into the gutter in Cherry street, which receives the waste hot water from Wells & Webster's steam saw mill in Sterling alley. Augustus Schnackenberger died in convulsions in Paris street. A daughter of Mrs. Buckingham, ten years of age, was burnt to death by the explosion of a camphene lamp, at her residence in the vicinity of Third and Poplar, and several other accidents of a less serious character occurred.

COST OF THE AFRICANS.

A correspondent of the Charleston Mercury states that the Africans found on bord the brig Putnam were purchased on the West Coast of Africa at from fifty cents to one dollar, and costing scarcely more than ten or fifteen dollars to be delivered on the coast of Cuba. The cost of returning them to their native jungles will be about a thousand dollars a piece.

THE ATLANTIC CABLE.—Mr. Field says that a dispatch from Trinity Bay informs him that although the insulation of the cable remains perfect, no message has been received over it for several days. He does not know the cause, but conjectures it is the change of the shore end at Valentia.

When the Africa sailed it was known that the connection of Mr. Whitehouse with the Atlantic Company would cease about the 1st inst., and it would appear more probable that the working ceased from some action of his or his partizan.

Mr. Thompson was to succeed Mr. Whitehouse, and it is quite possible that the delay is caused by his experiments, which are regarded as perfectly childish by practical telegraphers. It was also rumored that the company had arranged with Mr. Hughes to place his instruments at Valentia and Trinity Bay, about the 20th or 25th instant.

RELIEF OF NEURALGIA.—As this dreadful disease is becoming more prevalent than formerly, and as the doctors have not discovered any method or medicine that will permanently cure it, we simply state that for some time past, a member of our family has suffered most intensely from it, and could find no sure relief from any remedy applied, until we saw an article, which we republished, recommending the application of bruised horse-hadish to the wrist for the cure of toothache. As neuralgia and toothache are both nervous disease, we thought the remedy for the one would be likely to give relief to the other, so we made the application, and were truly gratified that the simple application of horse-radish, bruised and applied to the wrist on the side of the body where the disease was seated, gave almost instant relief to a severe attack of neuralgia. Since then we have applied it several times, and with the same gratifying results. The remedy is simple, cheap, and may be within the reach of every one.—Laurensville Herald.

SHOCKING DEATH OF A YOUNG LADY.

Special Despatch to the Philadelphia Bulletin.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Thursday, Sept. 2, 1858.

Miss Matilda Caldwell, daughter of Judge Caldwell, met with a shocking death last night. She had been at a wedding at the house of the Rev. Lloyd Knight, and was returning home about 11 o'clock in a vehicle driven by a young man named Wertz. The horse took fright at a light in front of Confer's tavern, in this place, and ran off. The rein broke in the effort to stop him, and Mr. Wertz then jumped out to try and arrest his progress. The horse wheeled suddenly and ran down the street about a hundred yards. Miss Caldwell leaped out, and fell with violence upon her head. She was taken up insensible and carried to her home, where she expired at two oclock this morning, having never spoken a word from the time the accident occurred.

AN EXAMPLE FOR BOYS.—We have a carrier connected with this office, who is between the ages of 13 and 14, who occupies a seat in the highest class in our public schools, has the geography of the country at his fingers' ends, and who can cipher round a bevy of schoolmasters, and in two and a half years more, which will make him sixteen, he will probably read Cicero and Homer to boot. But, in addition to acquirements at school, he has three hundred dollars in the Savings Bank, drawing five per cent. interest, and is daily adding thereto, all gathered together by selling newspapers between school hours

MURDER.

A cruel murder was committed about 10 days since, in Gates county, N. C., near the line between the county of Gates and Nansemond county. An old negro man was beaten to death by three white men, under the influence of liquor The negro belonged to Mr. John Knight, and the men charged with the murder are Jason Franklin, Robert Brinkley, and Alfred Vann. Franklin has been arrested and is in jail at Gatesville. The other two had not been taken at last accounts. The affair has created considerable excitement in the neighborhood where it transpired.

THE KNOW-NOTHING CRY OF EXTRAVAGANCE.—The KNOW-NOTHING papers continue to squawl that the expenses of the General Government are over $100,000,000, whereas the whole, including every item of expenditure, cannot be made to count more than $57,000,000, nearly one half less than it has been represented by the Know-nothings; but, as we shall see, they will persistently stick to the monstrous lie, for political effect, until the next Presidential election; and then they will sneak into their holes again, and hatch another falsehood.—Salisbury Banner.

"CAPTING" RIVIERE IN TROUBLE AGAIN.—The gallant Zouave is likely to get into fresh trouble unless he desists writing philippics to the city journals, calling the people of Mobile cowards, &c. A Mr. Luis E. Grant, writes to the Express from the Metropolitan Hotel, that being the friend of Capt. H. Maury, of Mobile, if Capt. Riviere is anxious for satisfaction he can be accommodated at the earliest convenience, provided the gallant Zouave selects a gentleman to do whatever fighting may be necessary.

The four States which have recently held their annual electons, have given Democratic majorities about as follows:—Missouri 22,000; North Carolina 15,500; Kentucky 13,000; Arkansas say 15,000. Democratic majority in four States, 65,500. Maine and Vermont, which hold their elections in a few days, will afford a partial relief from this monotony, which is becoming tedious, especially to our Republican friends.

HON. J. GLANCY JONES.—The Democracy of the whole country will be immeasurably delighted to hear of the triumphant re nomination of this distinguished gentleman, as the Democratic candidate for Congress from Berks county. His nomination was made by acclamation and endorsed amidst the greatest enthusiasm. He will be re-elected by such an overwhelming majority as Berks knows so well how to give.—Philadelphia Argus.

ELECTIONS BY THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

The next Legislature, in addition to other business of importance, will have to elect the following officers: Two United States' Senators, two Superior Court Judges, two or three Solicitors, a Secretary of State, Comptroller, Treasurer, &c. The two Houses will also choose their Speakers and Clerks.

MARRIED,

In Halifax, on Wednesday, the 1st inst., by H. Ponton, Esq., Mr. W. S. Barclift to Miss S. B. Dupree; all of Halifax Co.

DIED,

In the residence of Wm. Shannon, in this town, on Wednesday morning, the 8th inst., MARY E. CARTWRIGHT, wife of S. D. Cartwright, and daughter of Enoch and Elizabeth Hall, aged 23 years and 4 months.

Thus hath relentless Death entered the peaceful abode of love and happiness, and, with unerring shaft, stricken down a dear one around which fondly clustered the sweet and holy affections of a husband, who loved her with increasing devotion—a little prattling boy, who had ever made glad her heart with his gleesome smile—an aged mother, two sisters, two brothers, and a large circle of attached friends. If human affections could have retained the departed on earth, then had she surely lived; but our Heavenly Father chose to take her to Himself, and we should strive to say, "Thy will be done." By profession and by practice, the deceased was a christian, having some years since attached herself to the Baptist Church in Clarendon: and by her daily walk and conversation while in health, and also by her patient and uncomplaining submission to the afflictive dispensation of Providence during her long and painful illness, she furnished a beautiful illustration of the faith that was in her, and exemplified in a striking manner those christian virtues which serve so greatly to exalt our common humanity. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord."

A FRIEND.

SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.

THE UNDERSIGNED WILL OPEN A School for the instruction of Young Ladies in Edenton, N. C., on the first Monday in October, 1858. The first session will end on the 22d of February. The second session will commence on the 23d of February, 1859, and end on the 12th of July.

In the School will be taught, in addition to the ordinary English Branches of Female Education, including the higher branches of mathematical science, the following branches; to wit: Music on the Piano, Drawing, Painting in Water Colors, Silk and French Embroidery, the French and Spanish Languages. Tuition (which must be invariably paid in advance) will be as follows, per session: English $20; French or Spanish $20; Music, $25; Drawing, $6; Painting in Water Colors, $10; Silk or French Embroidery, each $5.

No more than Ten scholars will be admited to each instructress; and should Twenty-five pupils offer, another competent instructress will be added. Board can be had in Edenton at cheap rates, and the expenses of tuition in such branches as pupils would ordinarily take, at one time, can only in rare instances of extraordinary advancement, exceed some Fifty Dollars, per session, (music on the piano included) which we consider reasonably low; when the number of scholars to each instructress and the branches to be taught, are considered.

The School will ordinarily open at 9 o'clock A. M., and close at 3 to 3½ P. M., with an interval of about one hour after 12 o'clock.

☞ Neither religious instruction or bias will be given, or attempted in the school.

ELLEN B. HEATH,
M. ANNA B. HEATH.

Edenton, N. C., July 30,'58.

It will be seen by the above, that my daughters, Misses Ellen B. and M. Anna B. Heath propose to open a school for young ladies in Edenton. Though I have no pecuniary interest in the school, which is solely that of my daughters, yet I may be permitted to add, that the young ladies who propose to open the school are graduates of St. Joseph's, Emmettsburg, Maryland; that I pledge myself they are in all respects competent to instruct in the proposed branches; and further, that the religious instruction of young ladies committed to their care will not be interfered with. Persons from a distance, desiring to patronize the school, can address the Young Ladies, at Edenton, N. C., to my care.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE
IN CURRITUCK COUNTY, N. C.

THE undersigned having removed from North Carolina, desires to sell his property at Sligo, in the County of Currituck. There are one hundred and ninety-two acres of Land, (about thirty acres of which are cleared,) upon which are two Dwellings (one in excellent order) and all necessary out-houses. There are also upon the premises two STORE-HOUSES, one of which is a very large and substantial building, and the other, though not so large, is in excellent order. Also, two large warehouses. These Houses are on the main road leading from Camden County to Currituck C. H., Norfolk, &c.; and are among the best stands for merchandising anywhere in the country—being, besides, within two hundred yards of navigable water.

I will sell the whole for less than the original cost of the buildings alone. Terms accommodating.

For further particulars, apply, by letter or in person, to the subscriber at Deep Creek, Va., or to Henry Ballentine at Indian Ridge, N. C.

INFIRMARY FOR SLAVES,
ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

THE SUBSCRIBER has opened at the Marine Hospital (in a separate building) an INFIRMARY FOR INVALID SLAVES. He has ample accommodations for a limited number, and will give them his careful attention—supplying them with every necessary their case requires. An Institution of this kind offers many advantages to masters having servants afflicted with chronic or surgical diseases. And, from its economy, they are relieved of the expense and annoyance of having such upon a plantation.

The charges for Board, Medical attendance, Nursing, and Medicine, are $6 per week, payable upon the removal of the patient.

In cases requiring a surgical operation, in addition to the above rates, a fee varying from $2 to $30, in different cases, will be charged for the operation, the particulars of which may be ascertained upon application at the Infirmary.

The services of any other regular Physician will be allowed, at the expense of the master.

Persons in the country desiring to send patients to the Infirmary, or obtain information concerning it, may address the subscriber.

☞ No contagious diseases admitted.

BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL.
DOCTOR JOHNSTON,

THE founder of this Celebrated Institution, offers the most certain, speedy, and only effectual remedy in the world for Gleets, Strictures, Seminal weakness, Pains in the Loins, Constitutional Debility, Impotency, Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin; and all those serious and melancholy Disorders arising from the destructive habits of Youth, which destroy both body and mind. These secret and solitary practices are more fatal to their victims than the song of the Syrens to the mariners Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes of anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN

especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellects, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with all confidence.

Marriage.

Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, organic debility, deformities, &c., should immediately consult Dr. Johnston, and be restored to perfect health.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston, may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

Organic Weakness

immediately cured and full vigor restored.

This disease is the penalty most frequently paid by those who have become the victims or improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue.—Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of Procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged; the physical and mental powers weakened, nervous debility, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, a wasting of the frame, cough, symptoms of consumption, &c.

OFFICE—No. 7, South Frederick Street, Seven Doors from Baltimore St., East side, up the steps. ☞ Be particular in observing the name and number, or you will mistake the place.

A Cure Warranted, or no Charge Made, in from One to Two Days.

NO MERCURY OR NAUSEOUS DRUGS USED.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended, sometimes, with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

A Certain Disease.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to 'that bourne from whence no traveler returns.' To such therefore Dr. Johnston pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secrecy, and from his extensive practice in the first Hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend a safe and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid disease.

It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful disease, owing to the unskillfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that dreadful poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and either send the unfortunate sufferer to an untimely grave, or else make the residue of his life miserable.

Take Particular Notice!

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgencies and solitary habits which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either Business, Study, Society or Marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz:—Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects upon the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, Confusion of ideas, Depression of Spirits, Forebodings of Evil, Aversion of Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, etc., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health. Losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.

Dr. Johnston's Invigorating Remedy for Organic Weakness.

By this great and important remedy, weakness of the organs are speedily cured, and full vigor restored. Thousands of the most nervous and debilitated, who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All Impediments to Marriage, Physical or Mental Disqualification, Nervous Irritability, Tremblings and Weakness, or exhaustion of the most fearful kind, speedily cured by Doctor Johnston.

Young Men,

Who have injured themselves by a Certain Practice, indulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school—the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons before contemplating should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospects hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

OFFICE No. 7 SOUTH FREDERICK ST. Baltimore, Md.
ALL SURGICAL OPERATIONS PERFORMED.

To Strangers.

The many thousands cured at this institution within the last 16 years, and the numerous important Surgical operations performed by Dr. J. witnessed by the Reporters of the papers and many other persons, notices of which appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient guarantee that the afflicted will find a skilful and honorable physician.

DR. JOHNSTON is the only regular Physician advertising to cure private complaints.—His remedies and treatment are entirely unknown to others. Prepared from a life spent in the great hospitals of Europe and the first in this country, viz: England, France, the Blockley of Philadelphia, &c., and a more extensive practice than any other Physician in the world. His many wonderful cures and most important Surgical operations are a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted. Those who wish to be speedily and effectually relieved, should shun the numerous trifling imposters, who only ruin their health, and apply to him.

Take Notice.

☞ There are so many ignorant and worthless Quacks advertising themselves as Physicians, ruining the health of the already afflicted, that Dr. Johnston deems it necessary to say, especially to those unacquainted with his reputation, that his credentials or diplomas always hang in his office.

☞ No letters received unless post-paid, and containing a stamp to use on the reply.

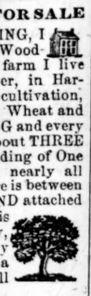
TWO VALUABLE FARMS FOR SALE

WISHING TO STOP FARMING, I offer for sale my two farms, "Woodlawn" and "Cumberland." The farm I live upon is situated on Perquimans river, in Harvey's Neck, and is in a fine state of cultivation, well adapted to the growth of Corn, Wheat and Cotton; has on it a good DWELLING and every necessary out-building. There is about THREE HUNDRED acres cleared, and a deading of One Hundred and Twenty-Five Acres, nearly all ditched and ready to come in. There is between eight and nine hundred acres of LAND attached to the farm; the portion not cleared is well set in pine, oak, gum, hickory, &c. I deem it unnecessary to say any more—those wishing to purchase a good and convenient farm will do well to come and examine the premises.



The other Farm is situated on the North side of Perquimans river, about four miles from Hertford, on the road recently cut through to Elizabeth City. There is about one hundred and fifty acres cleared, and a deading of about twenty acres, all ditched and ready to come in. This farm contains between two and three hundred acres, and will yield as much Corn as any land in the county. The buildings are not very good, but comfortable. I will also sell stock and farming utensils on the farms.

A liberal credit will be given. Come and see.

THE CITY OF THE GREAT KING;

OR JERUSALEM AS IT WAS, AS IT IS, & AS IT IS TO BE.

BY DR. J. T. BARCLAY, Late Missionary to Jerusalem. With a Steel Portrait of the Author by Sartain. Also Chromographic Illuminations in ten oil colors, Periscopic Panorama of the entire Circuit of the City and Environs, explanatory Maps, &c., by Rosenthal. Steel Engravings by Sartain, J. C. Buttre, Dick and Earle. Finest Wood Engravings by Louderback & Hoffman and J. H. Byram.

The Engravings will be executed in the highest style of art, from Photographs and original designs illustrating the various phases of the City.—

ANCIENT, MEDIEVAL, MODERN AND MILLENNIAL,

Also, Restoration of the Temple and City as invested by Titus.—Notices of its Jewish, Christian, and Heathen Antiquities—Its Present Political and Moral Condition—Future Prospects, &c.

This work is the result of investigations made during three and a half years' residence in the Holy City, with facilities for prosecuting researches never heretofore enjoyed. It was undertaken with special reference to the elucidation of the Holy Scriptures, the Talmud, the Works of Josephus, the Crusaders, and Pilgrim Chroniclers. The many valuable discoveries made in the Temple Enclosure, and other sacred localities, to which Dr. Barclay was admitted by special Firman, with permission to explore those hallowed spots, so jealously guarded for many centuries, and now for the first time presented to the Christian public, will introduce a new era in Sacred Topography.

BOOKS & STATIONERY.

BOOK AND STATIONERY STORE.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

W. P. GRIFFITH, having dissolved his connection with the firm of Vickery & Griffith, would respectfully inform the citizens of Elizabeth City and of the surrounding country, that he has opened at the store formerly occupied by the late Mr. R. C. Barclay,

The largest and best stock of Books and Stationery ever offered for sale in the City of Norfolk.

Believing that the wants and the tastes of the people required one establishment similar to those found in the large Northern cities, where a full and general assortment of Books can be obtained, the subscriber has been induced, during a recent visit to Philadelphia, New York and Boston, to purchase from the principal publishers, and at the great "Trade Sales," a superior stock of

School, Classical, Law, Medical, Theological, Religious and Miscellaneous

BOOKS.

Which will, upon examination, compare with any to be found in the Southern country.

My Stock of Foreign and American

STATIONERY.

Is very large and complete, it has been selected with great care, and embraces every article required for the School and Counting Room.

MY WHOLE STOCK IS ENTIRELY

—NEW.—

and has been bought upon the very best terms and a large portion for cash, which gives me a decided advantage over all other houses in the city, and will enable me to sell my goods at prices far below former rates.

Booksellers in this and adjacent Towns and Country Merchants, will find it greatly to their advantage to examine my stock before going North.

Colleges, Schools and Teachers, will be supplied at Northern prices.

By special arrangements with the following houses, I shall receive their new Books as they are issued from the Press, and will supply any or all of their publications at their prices:

J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.
Lindsay & Blackiston, do.
James B. Smith & Co., do.

AGRICULTURAL.

'YOUNG AMERICA' CORN AND COB MILL,

MANUFACTURED BY

S. MARCH, Norfolk, Va.

THE above Mill, which so far surpassed all others last season, has been improved, and made stronger and better than ever, and is now in the field carrying everything before it. It is the mill for strength, durability and swiftness.

I annex a list of premiums it has received this season, over the 'Little Giant,' 'Magic Mill,' Star Mill, Maynard's Mill, and all others that have come into competition with it:

First premium at the N. York State Fair.
First premium at the Ohio State Fair.
First premium at the Michigan State Fair.
First premium at the N. Carolina State Fair.
First premium at the Nashville (Tenn.) Fair.
First premium at one County Fair in N. York.
First premium at ten County Fairs in Ohio.

Trial of corn and cob mills at the North Carolina State Fair, October 1856.

The following table will show the time occupied by each of the Mills on exhibition in grinding half bushel of corn and cobs:

Young America, 2 minutes and 40 seconds.
Little Giant, 4 " 55 "
Magic Mill, 6 "

Sinclair & Co's Mill, two trials, average time, 6 minutes and 58 seconds.

Advantages of the Young America or Excelsior Mill over all others: 1st, great strength and durability; 2d, simplicity, (having but one set screw to graduate the quality of grinding, which renders it so simple that it may be managed by any ordinary farm hand;) 3d, it will grind more corn, or corn and cob, in the same time, and of same quality, than any other mill in use of the same size; 4th, economy—that part of the mill which is most liable to wear, being separate from the main body of the machine, can be renewed when worn out, at the small cost of $3. Thus in the Young America or Excelsior mill, I present the best, cheapest and most durable mill ever offered to the Farmer. This mill is of large size and greater capacity than any other mill ever sold at the same price.

Price, including extra plates, $50.

I am also manufacturing Cart and Wagon Wheels, Farm Wagons, Carts, Trucks, Drays, Plows, Harrows, Cultivators, Corn Shellers, and Agricultural Implements generally, and am better prepared to furnish farmers and merchants than any other house in the city.

Call and examine my stock and be convinced that it is to your interest to patronize Southern enterprize. I am unwilling to believe that all the men in Virginia and North Carolina prefer to build up the North and impoverish the South.

I have also a Foundry connected with my factory, and solicit orders for Castings generally.
